

Vacancy for Trustees and Treasurer of the National Pro Bono Centre

The National Pro Bono Centre

The National Pro Bono Centre opened in 2010 with the aim of facilitating pro bono nationally. Based in the heart of London's law district, the Centre brought together charities dedicated to the provision across England and Wales of pro bono legal services and access to justice for those without means.

The premises on Chancery Lane now houses nine organisations, and works with a number of other organisations that also benefit from the Centre's resources and collaborative provisions. The Centre facilitates better communication to the advantage of those seeking access to justice.

The need for the coordinated pro bono help that the Centre enables, and its future potential, could not be greater than at this time.

The Centre now embarks on framing its strategy for its next chapter commencing 2020. It seeks exceptional individuals to join its Board as trustees.
